Sandy City Fire Department obtains device to diagnose heart attack victims

Captain Rick Howard, R.N., teaching a crew how to acquire a 12-lead EKG.

The Sandy City Fire Department has obtained a device that will help heart attack victims. The 12-lead EKG machine can help emergency responders in the critical minutes following a heart attack to look at the heart in 12 different areas to identify damage or blockage. Heart attacks occur when blockage in the heart muscle causes a decrease in the blood flow to a particular part of the muscle, causing it to die. The information from the EKG machine is passed on to the hospital, helping decrease diagnostic time for the patient. In Sandy, all paramedic response vehicles house an EKG machine.

Sandy Police Department Introduces New Crime Data Tool

The Sandy City Police Department has introduced a new tool that will provide the citizens of Sandy with a look at crime data down to the specific neighborhood or block they live on.

CrimeReports.com is a standardized way to communicate crime data in near-real time, and in an easy to understand and usable format. It is free to the public and includes optional e-mail updates.

The information is pulled directly from the records management system of the police department and presented in categories through a web-based software. Crime incidents are highlighted under 15 general crime type categories and 21 sub-categories of crime activity within our jurisdiction. This allows the data to be easily sorted by crime type, by date or by distance from a location. It is then presented on an interactive map display using standard map controls.

The Sandy City Police Department strives to increase public awareness of local crime issues, and encourages citizens to work cooperatively with local law enforcement to improve the safety of their families, property and community. The police department hopes this tool will accomplish that goal and educate residents to avoid becoming a victim of crime and to prevent and reduce crime in all areas of the city. Please feel free to contact the Sandy City Police Department at 568-7200.
